THE PERSON OF THE PARTY OF THE

Biggest Crowd in the History of the American Turf-No Disorder of Any Kind -Railroad Overtaxed-Bookmakers Lose -Form Reversal of T. S. Martin.

Probably 50,000 persons saw the races at elmont Park yesterday. According to the Pinkerions, more than 48,000 passed through the turnstiles, while 2,000 more went to the magnificent racecourse in automobiles and carriages. It was the greatest attendance that over turned out at an American raceourse and paid fitting tribute to the popularity of the turf under the jurisdiction of the Jockey Club. Two years ago 40,000 persons saw the Futurity run at Sheepshead Bay. That was a record until a year ago, when 43,000 saw the races at Belmont Park. Yet, in spite of this tremendous growd, there was no disorder of any kind, no disputes between the army of players and the 300 bookmakers, who handled probably more than $1.000,000 on the six races.

When the gates of the big track were opened at noon the crowd began to arrive in a steady scream. The Long Island Raffroud at the East Thirty-fourth street and Flatbush avenue terminals was fairly swamped. The trains were run to the track on ten or fifteen o a train the road was overtaxed, so that hundreds did not reach the track until the second race had been run. The grand stand, which has a seating capacity of 11,000, was jammed. Not a seat was vacant during the running of the races, while the Pinkertons found it impossible to keep the aisles clear. The 6,000 seats in the field stand were also filled, while the big structure was so crowded when the Belmont Stakes was run that the racetrack police feared a panic.

The broad lawn from the judges' stand far up beyond the field stand—a stretch of nearly quarter of a mile—was black with humanity. So great was the crush there while the horses rere at the post in each race that elbow room was at a premium. The clubhouse was filed with society people and men known in all walks of life, while on the grounds near the saddling paddock were more than 500 automobiles of different makes and colors. The management of the Westchester Racing Association expected a great throng but nothing like the one that turned out. The receipts for the day must have been close to $100,000. The programmes-40,000 of themere all gone before the second race was run. while everything estable or drinkable was consumed before the afternoon was over. But with the running of the last race came the only real trouble of the day. With fifteen trains waiting to take the crowd back to the ity came a rush for the subway leading to the station platforms. The Pinkertons, who handled the thousands with extreme care. were prepared for this onelaught and met it with a system that caused much grumbling, ret undoubtedly prevented a serious panic Ropes were stretched across the entrance to the subway leading to the cars, so that only s limited number of persons could pass the sleuths. This prevented undue crowding and kept the trains from being overloaded. But as all the trains were on the way to the race, thousands had to wait until the cars be drawn back from Long Island City and Brooklyn, with the result that it was not until 7.30 o'clock last night that the last of the wonderful assemblage left the track. With few exceptions the bookmakers lost money on the day. Some of them dropped stoo, while others had to settle for ten times that amount. But at that there were very few big wagers handled during the afternoon It was the public's money that held sway, the layers handling a myriad of $5, $10, $20 and $50 wagers on all of the races. One of and so wagers on all of the races. One of the leading chalkers showed a sheet black with figures on the Belmont Stakes, yet he only took in $2,000 to the race. The betting ring at all stages of the proceedings was a wonder to look upon. It is by far the largest betting pavilion in this country, yet it was scene of crowding, jostling, jamming, pulling and hauling all the afternoon. But there were no fights, the people, all good natured, enjoying the excitement of the outing to a marked It was perfect management on the old. The crowd, or rather a majority, backed the Keene stable with perfect confidence, even at 7 to 10, and after the race there were so many persons lined up behind the books tain, Bowling Brook, Jean Beraud, Ildrim, Commando, Masterman, Africander, Debi.

lanys and Burgomaster.
What was the matter with T. S. Martin n the Empire State steeplechase run at Gravesend last Saturday? Hundreds of race, goers were asking this question when the Fatherless gelding beat Good and Plenty in the Whitney Memorial. On Saturday T. S. Martin was 11 to 5, second choice, but with upee, who rode him yesterday in the saddle. te was beaten early in the race and finished to far back in the ruck that he was passed Up as no account. When he beat Good and Plenty in a gallop yesterday, therefore, there were many comments of an uncomplimentary hature, with additional remarks reflecting on the jockey and the trainer, W. Garth. Will the stewards look into this glaring form reversal or will they allow it to pass un-challenged? The public plunged on Good and Plenty, because on form he looked like a cinch. From 7 to 10 he was backed down to 11 to 20, while T. S. Martin and Sanctus, coupled, receded from 4 to 9 to 2, with a world of money wagered on them for the place at evens. There was also a good play en Grandpa both ways. Good and Plenty won this race in 1905 and 1906.

Wagers on Mr. Keene's Suffrage in the laremont handleap overwhelmed the books, but she remained an even money favorite throughout the speculation. There was a strong play on Sydney Paget's Charles Edward for the place, while Jack Atkin, the winner, was lowered from 10 to 8 at the last moment and also taken place and show. Previous winners of this event were Premier, Warrenton, Kinnikinic, Belle of Lexington, King Pepper, Hatasoo, Rosetint, Hurst Park, Roseben and Flip Flap. Suffrage gave three bounds to Jack Atkin and one to Charles COLGATE'S EASY VICTORY. Bochester and Hamilton Badly Beaten in Triple Track Meet.

HAMILTON, N. Y., May 30 .-- The Hamilton Rochester-Colgate track meet here to-day resulted in a complete victory for Colgate, with 70 points: Rochester was second with 37 points and Hamilton third with 10 points. The sum-ing the excitement of the outing to a marked derse. It was perfect management on the part of Robert Pinkerton, John E. Cavanagh and their assistants, who had their bands full for more than six hours.

When Peter Pan romped home, the students of form threw up their hands. Trainer Rowe of the Keene stable was also much surprised. Early in the year he said that Peter Pan was the best three-year-old in his barn, but he was inclined to weaken when the doll curled up and quit cold in the Withers and the Carton. But Peter Pan's victory in the Belmont created the impression that, the son of Commando was after all a high class three-year-old. The crowd, or rather a majority, backed the Keene stable with perfect confidence, even at 7 to 10, and after the race there were so many persons lined up behind the books that the cashiers did not finish paying off until the sixth race was under way. The Belmont Stakes was first run in 1867, the winners being Ruthless, Gen. YAOHTING AT OYSTER BAY. Metsi and Grayling Win Races at Seawanhakn's Opening.

The clubhouse of the Seawanhaka Corin-thian Facht Club was opened for the season yesterday with the usual ceremonies. The club burgee was heisted at noon on a signal from Oneida, the flagship of Commodore E. C. Behedict. All the yachts in the fleet saluted and then the yachts dressed ship. Fleet Captain Franklin B. Plummer offered a prize for the best commissioned yacht and after the opening orermonies each yacht in the fleet was inspected. The committee gave the cup to the Layal, owned by G. J. Robins. There was a reception on board the flagship in the afternoon which was attended by all the captains, the members and their guests. The racing season opened with a rate for 27 footers ever the outside course and a face for is footers over the inside course. The wind was light from the northeast at the start and shifted later to the northwest, so that the yachts had a long journey, and it was about sunset when they finished. The summary follows: from Oneida, the flagship of Commodore E. C.

ACCIDENTS IN MANX RACE, Several Mishaps in Auto Race for Tourist

. Trophy Won by E. Courtis. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. Douglas, Isle of Man, May 30.—The most imperiant events of the Manx motor esr week took place to-day. Twenty-two contestants started in the third annual contest for the international tourist trophy. Owing to increasing dangers, expense and declining interest it is expected that to-day's meet will be the last of its kind. The total distance of the course was 241 miles 5 furlongs 140

yards.

The race involved several accidents. E. Courtis, driving a 20 horse-power Rover car, won. Prew, driving a Star car, hroke down at a sharp turn near the Guarter Bridge. His mechanic was seriously injured. Coatalon, driving a Coatalon car, was in collision at the Guarter Bridge, and the wheels of his automobile were smashed. Gollier, driving a Westaster car, was oversurned on Snaefell. The driver and mechanic fortunately escaped in ury. There were several other minor mishaps.

The first contest for the international heavy touring car trophy was also run. There were nine competitors. The distance was 30 miles 3 furious 80 yards. The event was pulled off in a heavy rain. O. P. Millis, driving a 50 horse-power Recepton-Humber, won. his time was 7 hours 11 minutes. yards.

T. S. Martin Beats Good and Pienty in Wittney Memorial -Jack Atkin Takes Claremont and Master of Craft Scores in Ameteur Cup-Dolly Spanker Wins.

James R. Keene's Peter Pan and Superman. both sired by the famous Commando, ran first and second respectively in the classic Belmont Stakes, for three-year-olds, one mile and three furlongs, at Belmont Park yesterday. The race was worth $25,000 gross, of which Mr. Keene's share was $23,000. The biggest crowd that ever assembled on an American racetrack saw the event decided and tendered a turbulent ovation to the winner. The Keene colts were coupled in the straight betting only, at 7 to 10. Trainer Rowe put Miller on Superman, the winner of the Brooklyn Handieap and supposed to be the best horse in the Keene barn, while Mountain had the mount on Peter Pan. Bécause of distressing defeats in the Withers Stakes and the Carlton Stakes, in which he succumbed to Frank Gill and Dinna Ken respectively. Peter Pan was not seriously considered in the calculations. He was sent to the post, however, to make the pace for Superman, as J. L. McGinnia's Frank Gill, by Coliar, the winner of the Withers, was regarded as a dangerous factor. Gill receded in the best ting to 2 to 1, but he was tremendously backed for the place at 1 to 2. The other starters were H. P. Whitney's Paumonok, by Watercress, and H. B. Duryea's Hickory, by Ben Strome, a full brother to the well known race mare Eugenia Burch.

The field started at right angles to the straightsway course, some distance beyond the field stand, and ran over the "Belmont course," especially built for this event. The route was in the shape of the lefter S, the horses practically disappearing from view a moment beyond a clump of trees.
